MADE BY QUBI

It's industry 4.0. Your business is building the future and you want to do your corporate image justice during your trade fair appearances and other big events? Show case your products and services using XR.

Let us take the usual pain out of handling XR applications at your exhibition booth and create a highly immersive experience to impress your target audience with!

Use your new story telling device to

- let your clients explore digital twins
- show intricate processing procedures
- communicate your range of services
- and much more!

Behind each side of qubicle's cube-shaped XR frame, a whole different scene is ready to be explored.
